Why do I need to sign a safety / construction waiver?

We value the safety of our prospects and our team members.

Because some of the properties you visit may still be under construction, it is important we educate you on the safety risks present before walking through an unfinished product.

Our agent will be very attentive to drawing attention to any areas of the property that warrant specific concern but we urge prospects to use extreme care when touring a building that is unfinished.

An example of our liability release can be found here.
